

20
19

FESTIVAL
O19
SEPTEMBER 18 - 29

1. The Love for Three Oranges tells the story of a melancholic prince and his cursed quest for love.

Photo by Michele Borzoni

2. The Love for Three Oranges will be performed at the Academy of Music as part of Festival O19.

Photo by Michele Borzoni

3. Sergei Prokofiev's The Love for Three Oranges tells the story of a melancholic prince and his cursed quest for love.

Photo by Michele Borzoni

4. Handel's Semele gets an energetic makeover in this new co-production from director James Darrah.

Photo by Kent Sievers

5. Handel's Semele, inspired by Ovid's Metamorphoses, tells a story of unbridled love, jealousy, and revenge.

Photo by Kent Sievers

6. Handel's Semele gets an energetic makeover in this new co-production from director James Darrah.

Photo by Kent Sievers

7. Baritone Johnny Herford and mezzo-soprano Siena Licht Miller will perform in Festival O19's world premiere Denis & Katya.

Photo by Dominic M. Mercier

8. Denis & Katya composer Philip Venables, librettist/director Ted Huffman, mezzo-soprano Siena Licht Miller, co-creator and dramaturge Ksenia Ravvina, and baritone Johnny Herford.

Photo by Dominic M. Mercier

9. Denis & Katya composer Philip Venables and librettist/director Ted Huffman.

Photo by Dominic M. Mercier

10. Joseph Keckler presents Let Me Die as part of Festival O19, in a co-production of Opera Philadelphia and FringeArts.

Photo by Michael Sharkey

11. Corrado Rovaris celebrates his 20th anniversary with Opera Philadelphia in the 2019-2020 season and conducts The Love for Three Oranges in Festival O19.

Photo from Opera Philadelphia

12. Corrado Rovaris celebrates his 20th anniversary with Opera Philadelphia in the 2019-2020 season and conducts The Love for Three Oranges in Festival O19.

Photo by Gabello Studios

13. Soprano Brenda Rae performs at the O19 Celebration Honoring Maestro Corrado Rovaris on Saturday, September 21.

Photo by Kristin Hoebemann

14. Karen Slack performs in Curtis in Concert.

Photo by Roni Ely

15. Rachel Sterrenberg performs in Curtis in Concert.

Photo by Andrew Bogard

16. Stephanie Blythe performs as Blythely Oratonio in Late Night Snacks, in partnership with The Bearded Ladies Cabaret and FringeArts.

Photo by Steven Pisano

17. Join The Bearded Ladies and a roster of performers for Late Night Snacks, your O19 Nightcap.

Photo by Steven Pisano

18. Opera on the Mall returns to Independence National Park for the 9th year with a broadcast of Spring 2019's La bohème.

Photo by Kelly & Massa