

The Marriage of Figaro* Press Gallery
Photos by Kelly & Massa

1) Susanna (soprano Ying Fang) and Figaro (bass-baritone Brandon Cedel) discuss their impending wedding night in The Marriage of Figaro, premiering October 22 on the Opera Philadelphia Channel.

2) Soprano Ying Fang as Susanna in The Marriage of Figaro, premiering October 22 on the Opera Philadelphia Channel.

3) Cherubino (mezzo-soprano Cecelia Hall) serenades Countess Almaviva (soprano Layla Claire) with a song in Opera Philadelphia's The Marriage of Figaro.

4) Susanna (soprano Ying Fang) hides in the Countess's (soprano Layla Claire) cabinet to confuse the Count (baritone John Chest), who thinks Cherubino is inside, in Opera Philadelphia's The Marriage of Figaro.

5) Count Almaviva (baritone John Chest) and Countess Almaviva (soprano Layla Claire) nearly come to blows over the Count's suspicions. The Marriage of Figaro begins streaming on the Opera Philadelphia Channel on October 22.

6) The Count (baritone John Chest), Marcellina (mezzo soprano Lucy Schauer), Bartolo (bass-baritone Patrick Carfizzi), and the gossip Basilio (tenor Jason Ferrante) toast their good Fortune. The Marriage of Figaro begins streaming on the Opera Philadelphia Channel on October 22.

7) Figaro (bass-baritone Brandon Cedel) comes to grips with the news that Marcellina (mezzo-soprano Lucy Schaufer) is, in fact, his mother and Bartolo is his father. The Marriage of Figaro begins streaming on the Opera Philadelphia Channel on October 22.

8) Bartolo (bass-baritone Patrick Carfizzi), Marcellina (mezzo-soprano Lucy Schaufer), Figaro (bass-baritone Brandon Cedel) and Susanna (soprano Ying Fang) rejoice over their newfound happiness in Opera Philadelphia's The Marriage of Figaro.